“I took 5 years off after having my third child, and going back into the workforce was a scary thing for me. Technology in 5 years had changed significantly. I didn't have the confidence to know if I could do the job. So something like this program for me would have been ideal.”

— Joan Nickerson, SVP, Human Resources, Sarepta Therapeutics

Sarepta Culture

Sarepta Therapeutics is driven by science, by a sense of urgency, and by a desire to have a lasting impact. Their culture is defined by collaboration and a shared motivation to leverage the power of science to save lives!

Sarepta Therapeutics is committed to creating a diverse and inclusive workforce. The company aims to create a work environment that celebrates the diversity of its employees and community while laying immense emphasis on empowering its employees to grow and develop by making learning part of everyone's job.
